High School's come and gone
Where do I go from here?
Graduation was a success
But my future is not clear.

I'm at a crossroads in my life
But which way do I go?
I take my time and count each step
As I search for my tomorrow.

I ask of you, those who know
How much unrest must I bear?
I'm as a glass bubble, breakable
So please handle me with care.

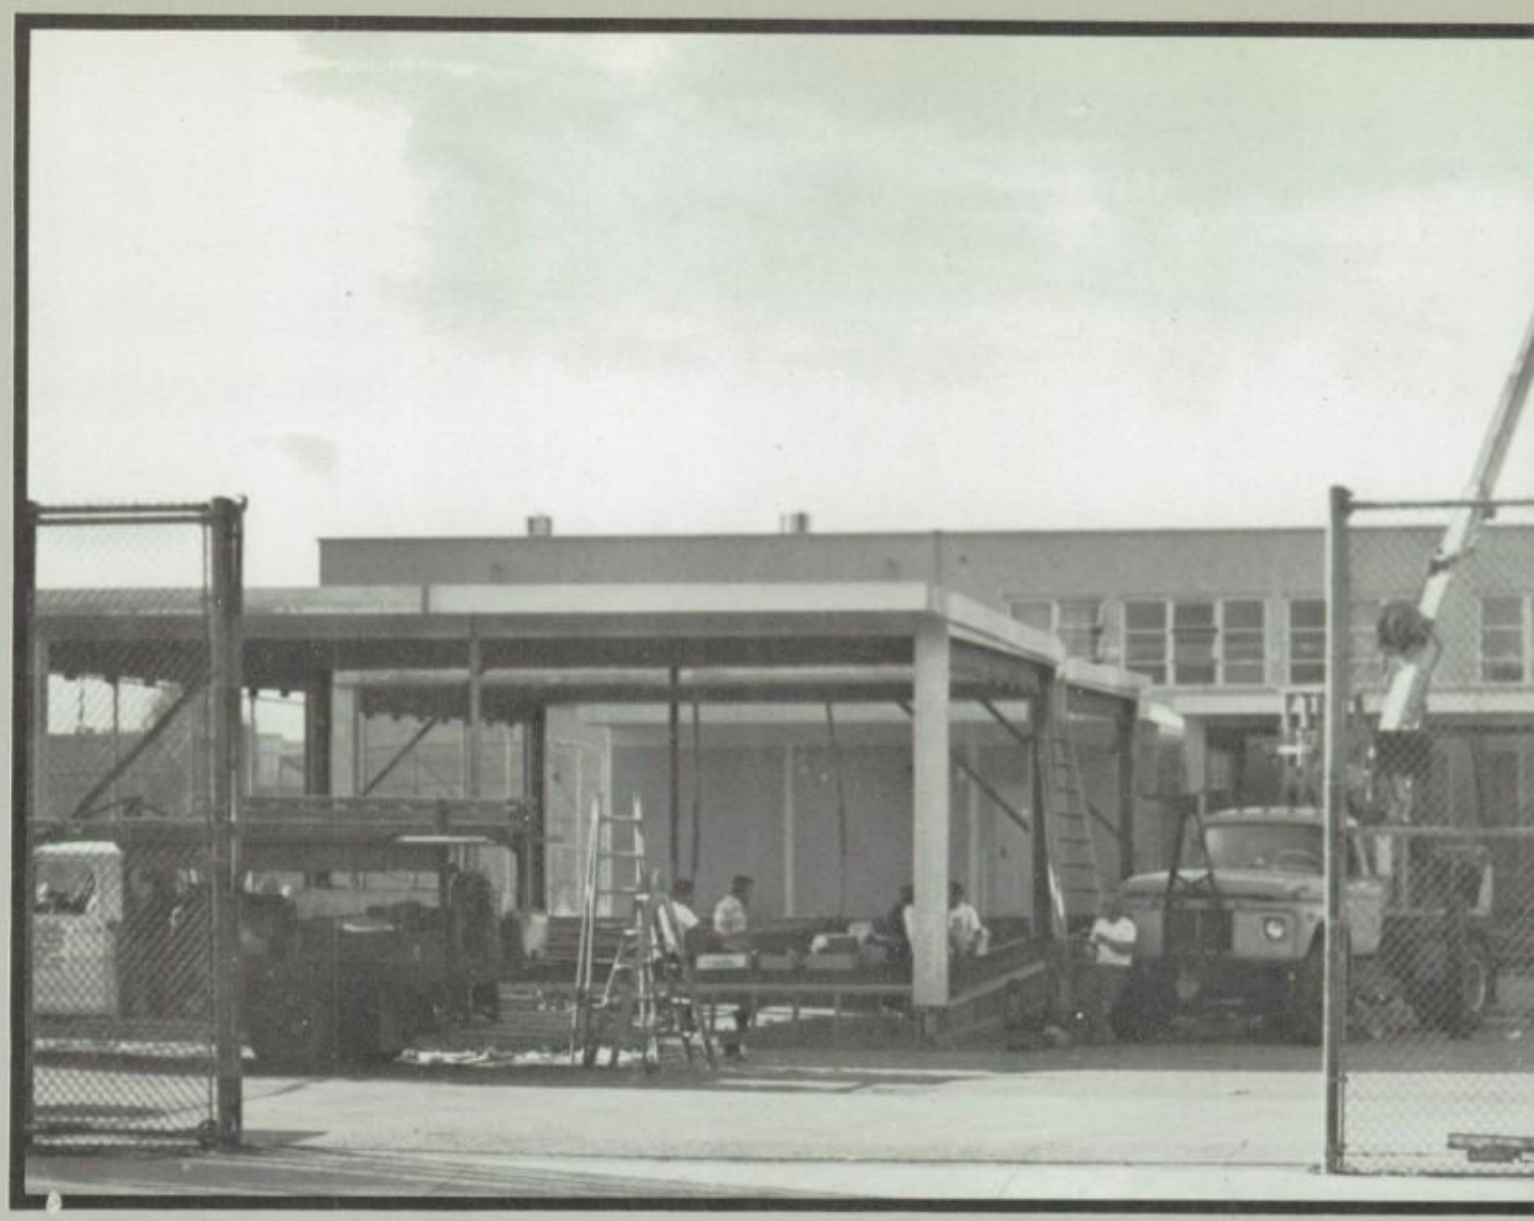
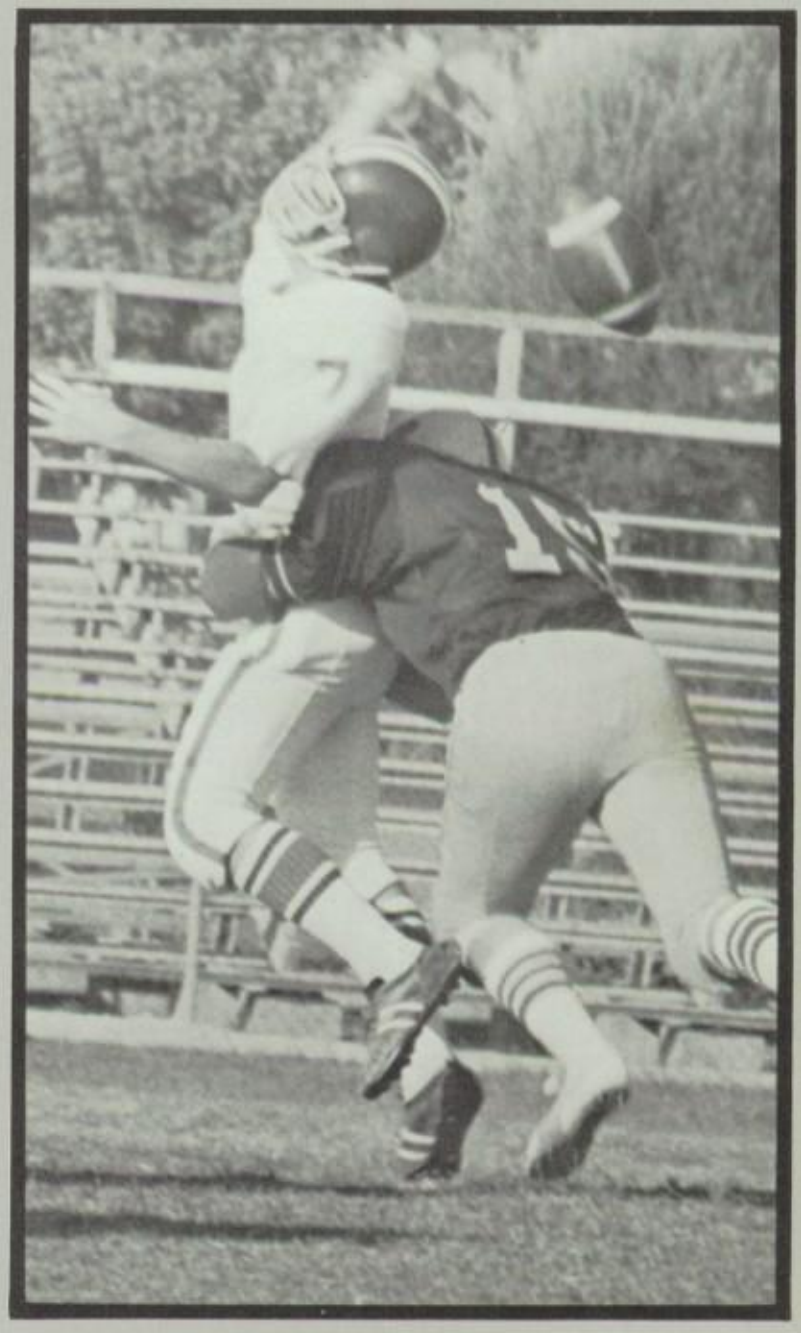
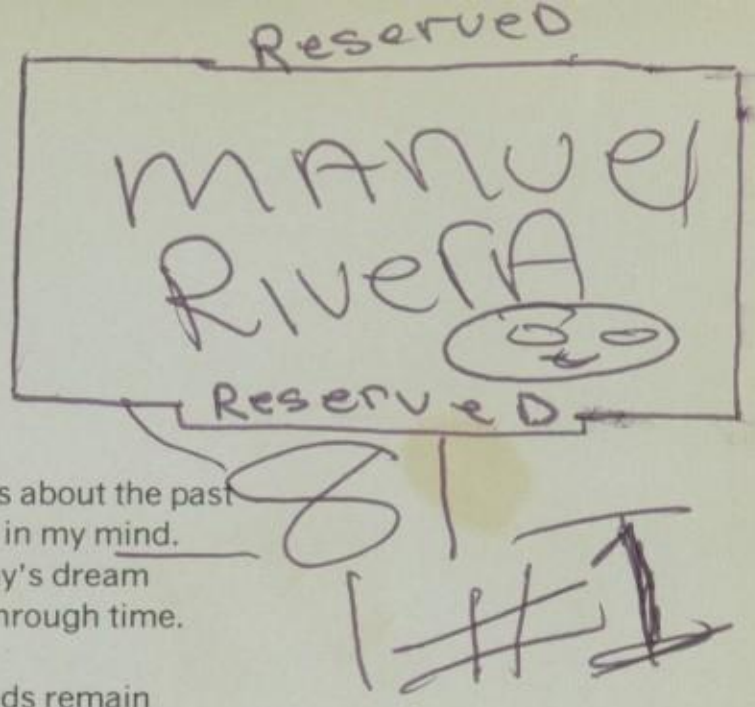
Opening 5





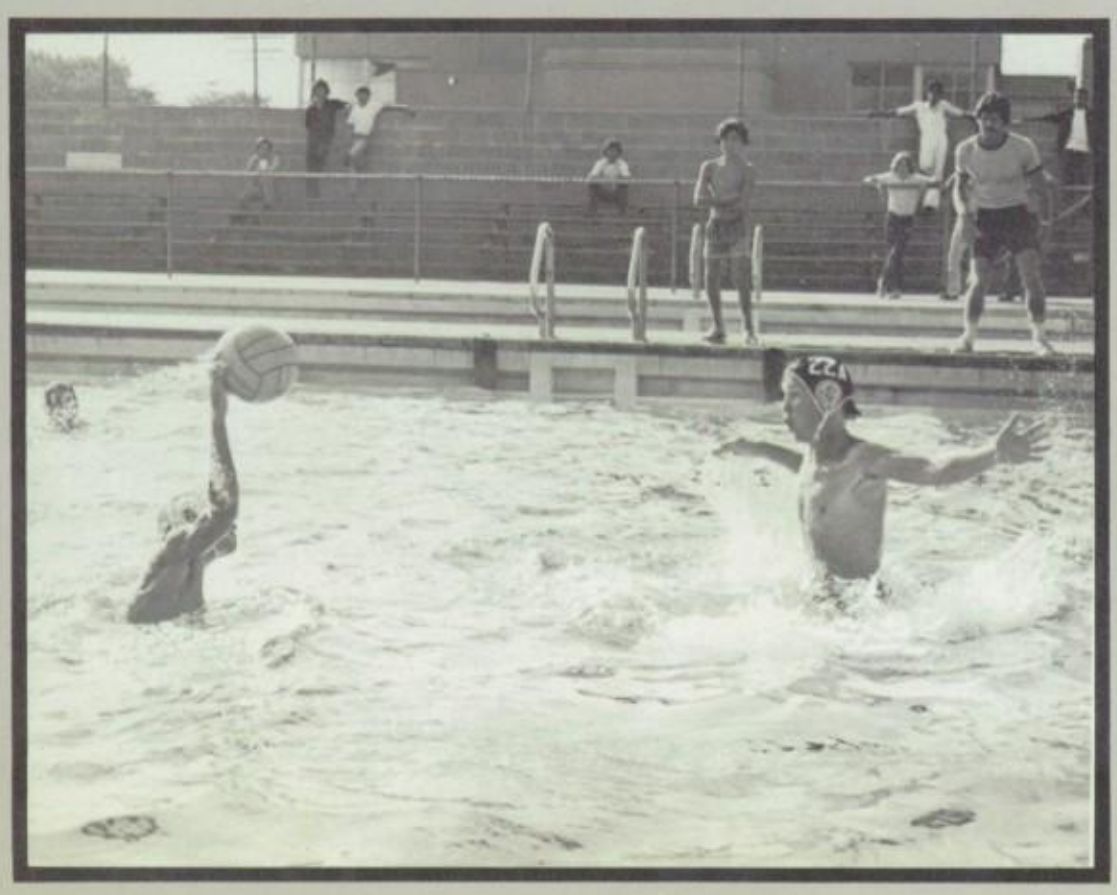


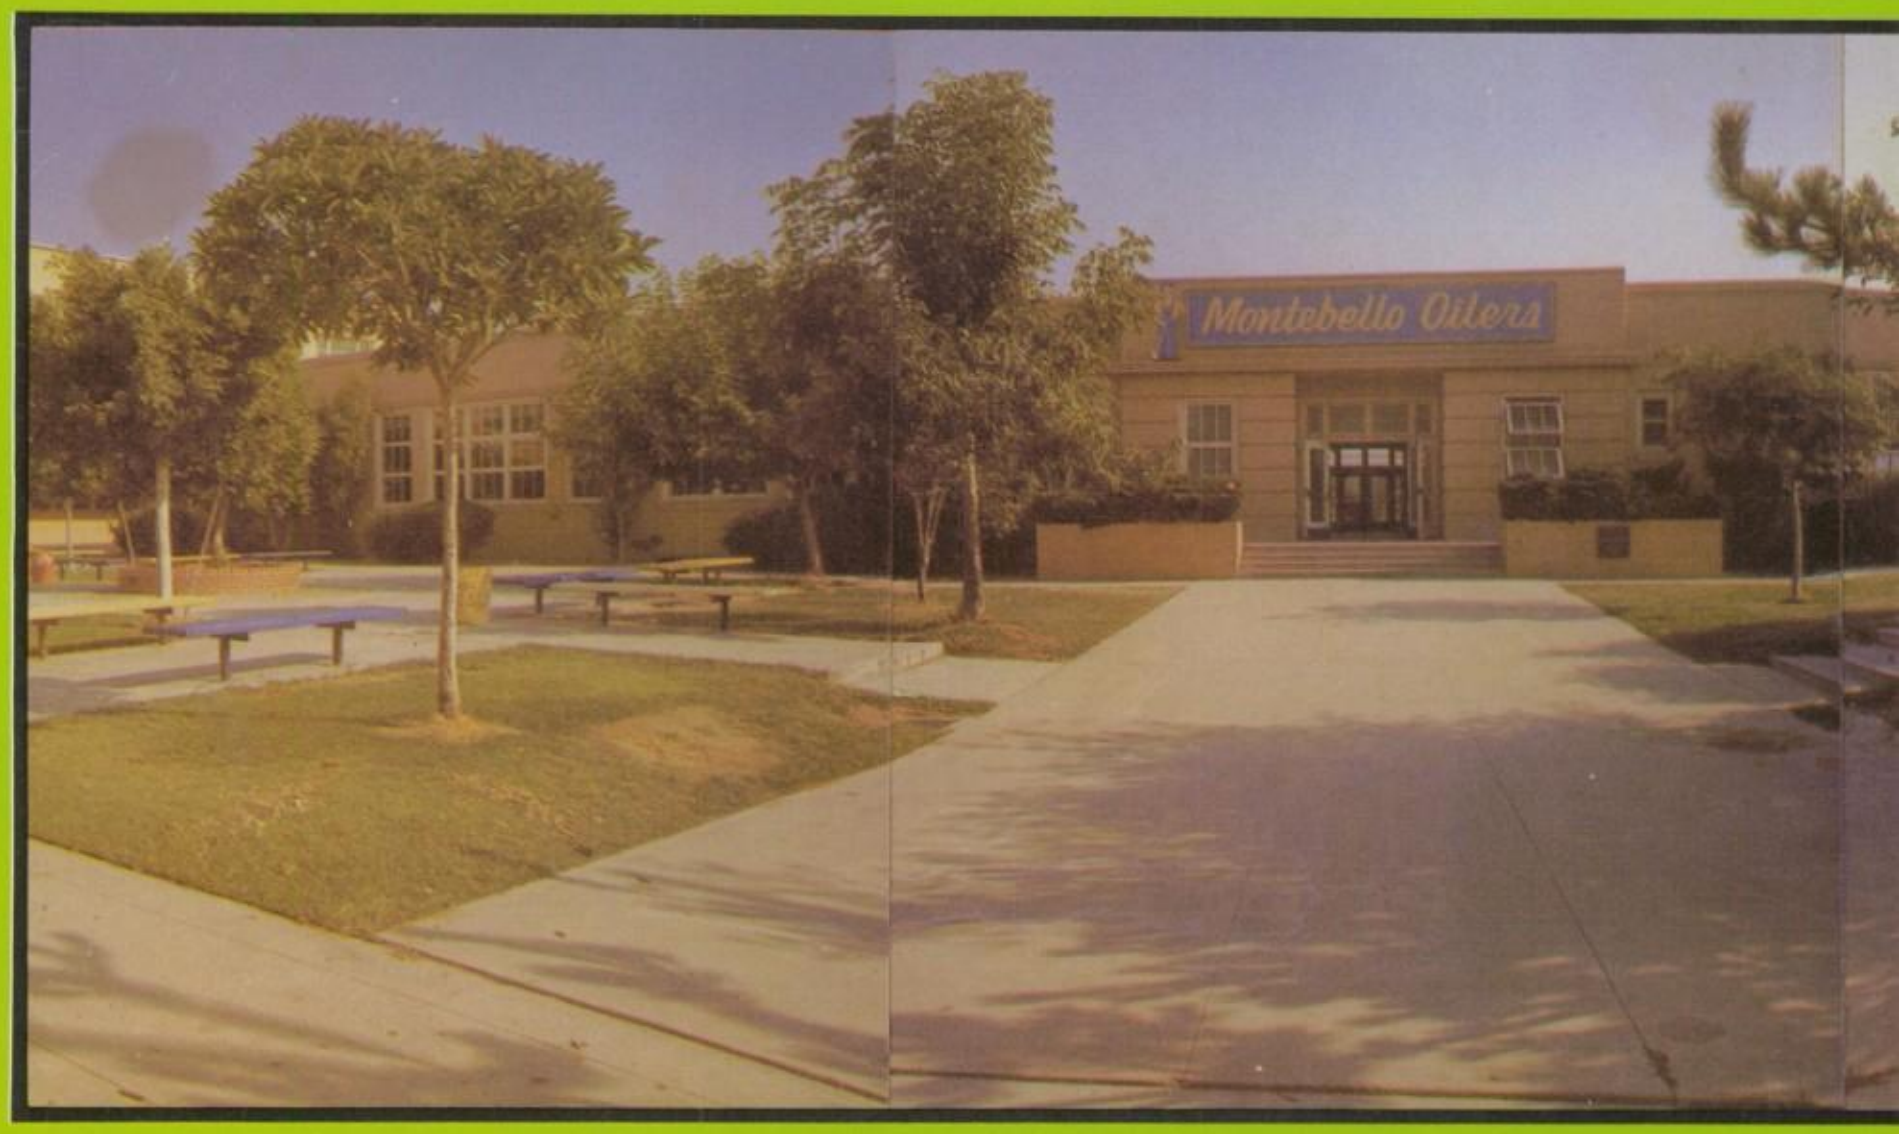
Thoughts about the past
Ring out in my mind.
Yesterday's dream
Erased through time.

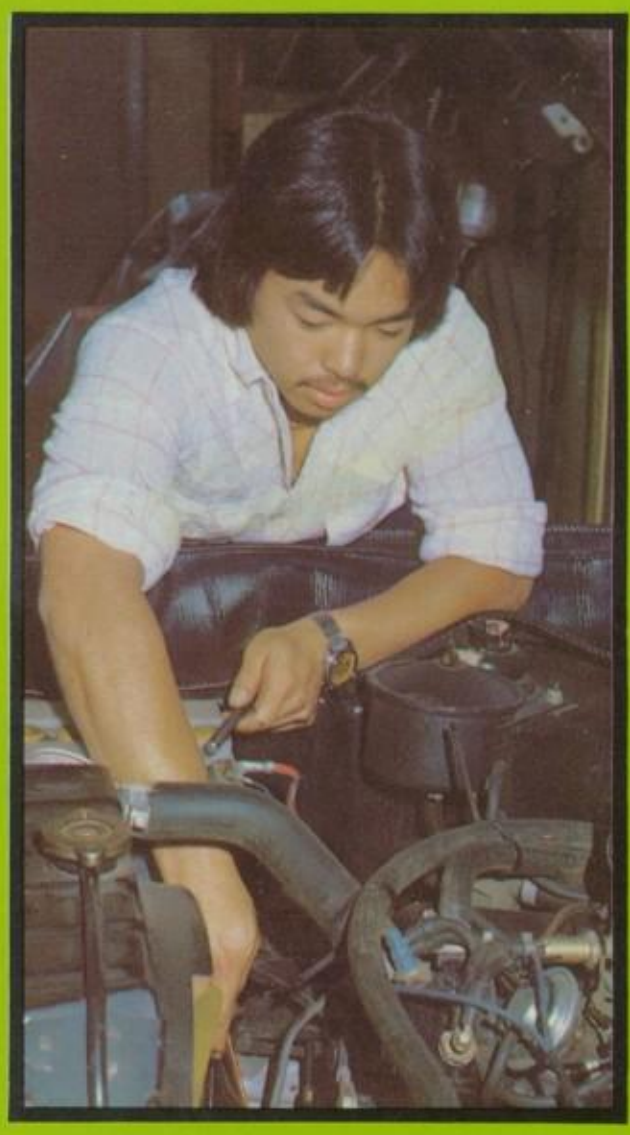
Will friends remain
As the years go by?
Or be gone forever
Like a forgotten love.

Remember the times,
Good or bad,
For they are only once.

Kathy Fiebiger







Julie,
You're a very

The school is empty.
The halls silent.
Memories rush at me
People laughing, lockers banging, the water faucet.
Treat me gently.

No one's in view.
The classes unfilled.
Memories rush at me
Students talking, books closing, the pencil sharpener.
Handle me softly.

I am alone.
The gym is peaceful.
Memories rush at me
Crowds cheering, music playing, people touching.
Treat with love.

Everybody is gone.
The cafeteria lonely.
Memories rush at me
Friends yelling, mouths chewing, bell ringing.
Handle with care.

Remember the dances and the girl next door,
Remember your first love, there will soon be more,
Remember the football games, the quarterback was blamed,
Remember the fashions, everyone wore the same,
But remember the joy, the laughter, the tears,
Remember the basketball games when everyone cheered,
But mostly, remember the memories you shared,
They'll never be like the time you were there.

I hear old memories calling me back,
as tempting as a glass of wine, promising relief.
I long to be put on a schedule, nutrition, then lunch,
and then home.
I look at old pictures of events that have long since gone to rest.
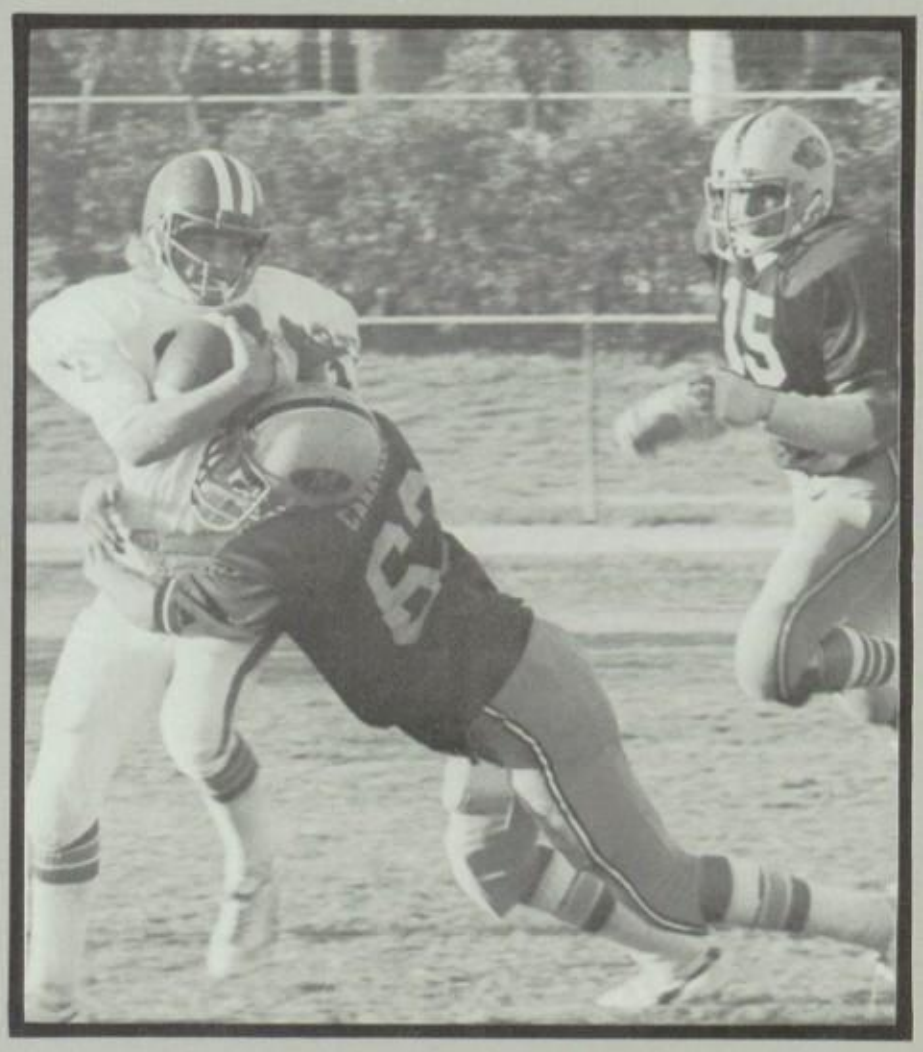
Remembering only the fun
Hearing only the happiness
Seeing only the laughter
And feeling only the music . . .

Michael Hernandez



Here lies the future —
taking shape down inside.
Hidden from all but the mind's eye.
In the hearts of our youth —
destiny awaits the day,
it will step into view —
taking control,
breaking old patterns . . .
Our existence impending upon those young faces —
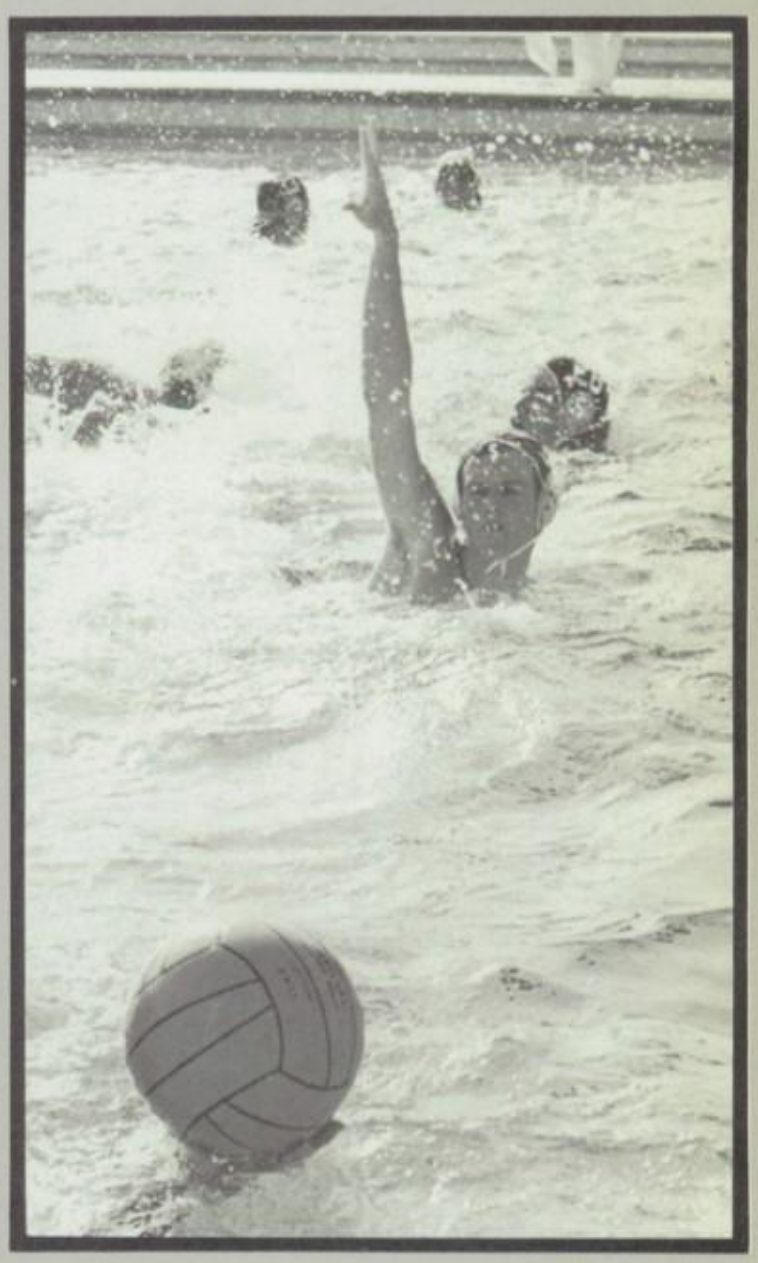
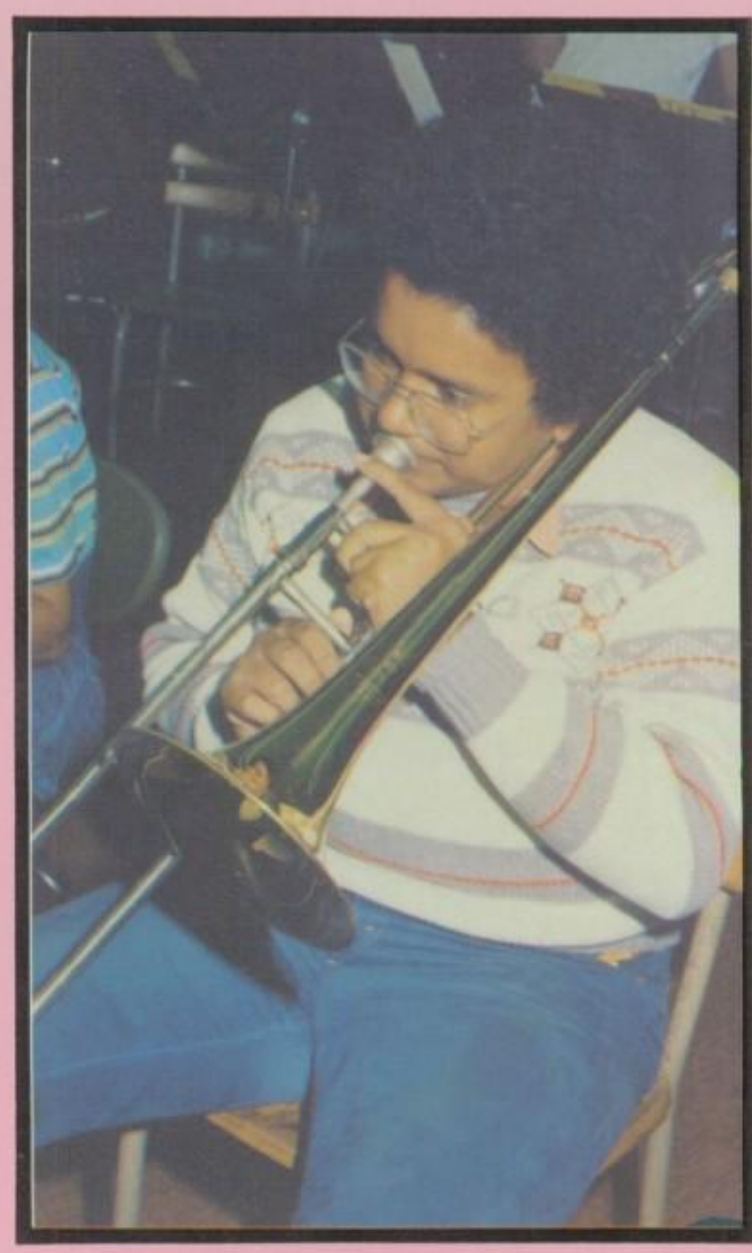
regard us with respect;
we are the future.

Hannah Pederson





Oh, those precious high school years. Where have they gone? Where will they lead? The many memories will always linger in our own minds . . . of dances, games, friends, teachers, fads, and graduation.

High school years are considered the years that most affect our future. Those years contain events, ages, and times we can never return to. Therefore, the so-called fragile years of life should always be handled with care.

Reps Surveyed Class Of '78

Back in the spring of 1977, the Class of '78 elected its Senior Representatives. From a field of nearly a dozen candidates, Mike Espinoza, Luba Loskutoff, Steve Moreno, and Alan Yoshitake were elected to office. Their traditional repsonsibilities included serving on the Student Council, as well as organizing the Powderpuff Football game, the Homecoming Mum Sale, the Senior Snow Trip, and Grad Night. This year the Representatives also organized many new activities such as a Ping Pong tournament, The Great American Turkey Raffle, selection of the Tasmanian Devil as the class mascot, and a Senior Picnic. With the efforts of the Senior Representatves, the Class of '78 enjoyed their Senior Year to the fullest.

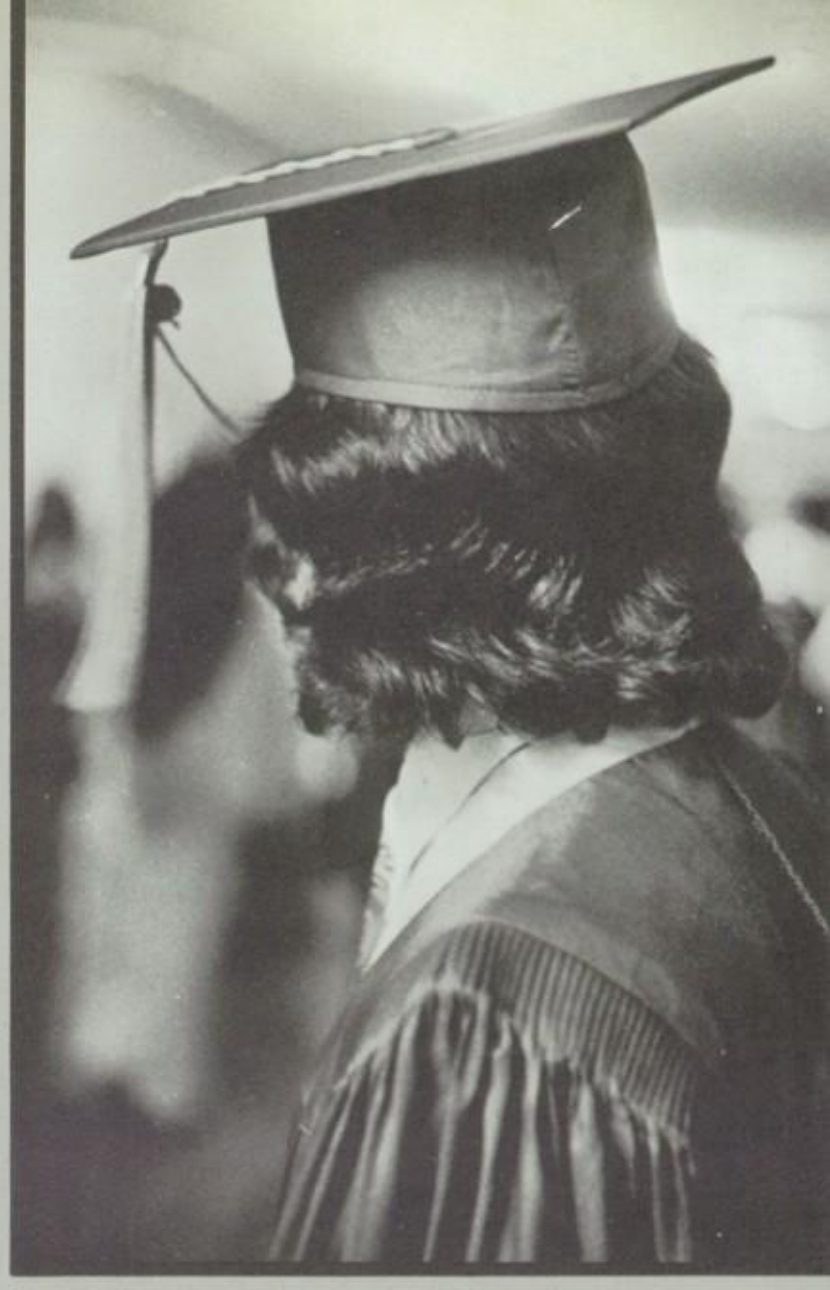
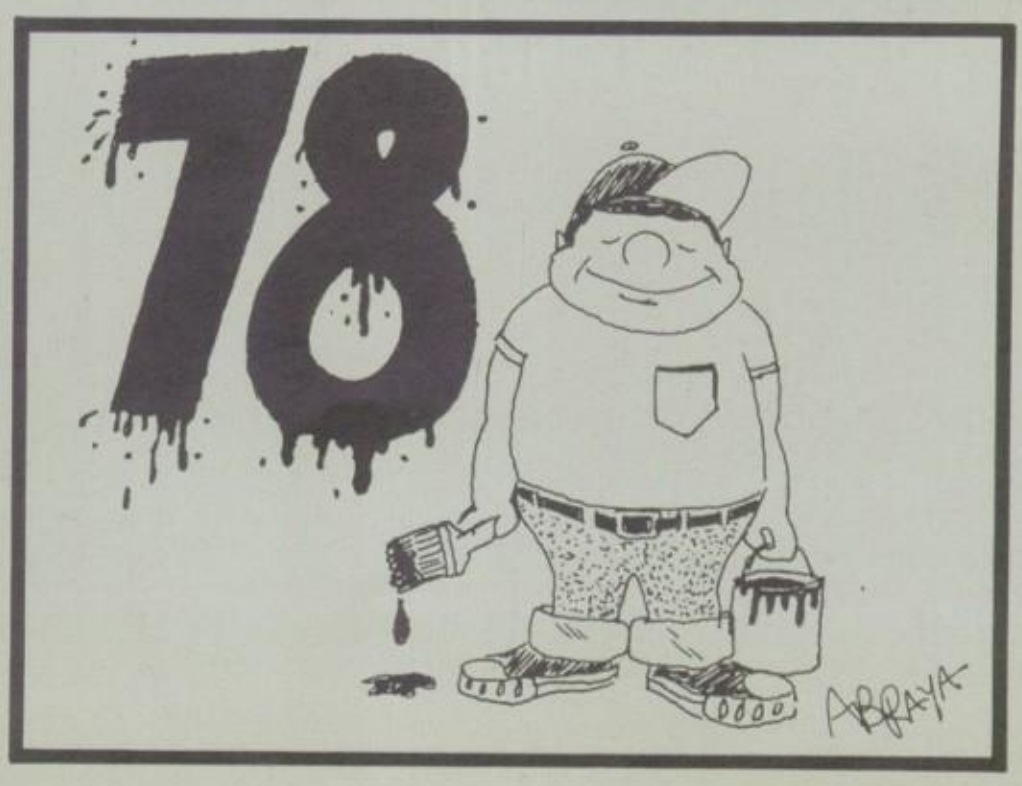
It Was An Anticipated Occasion For Most

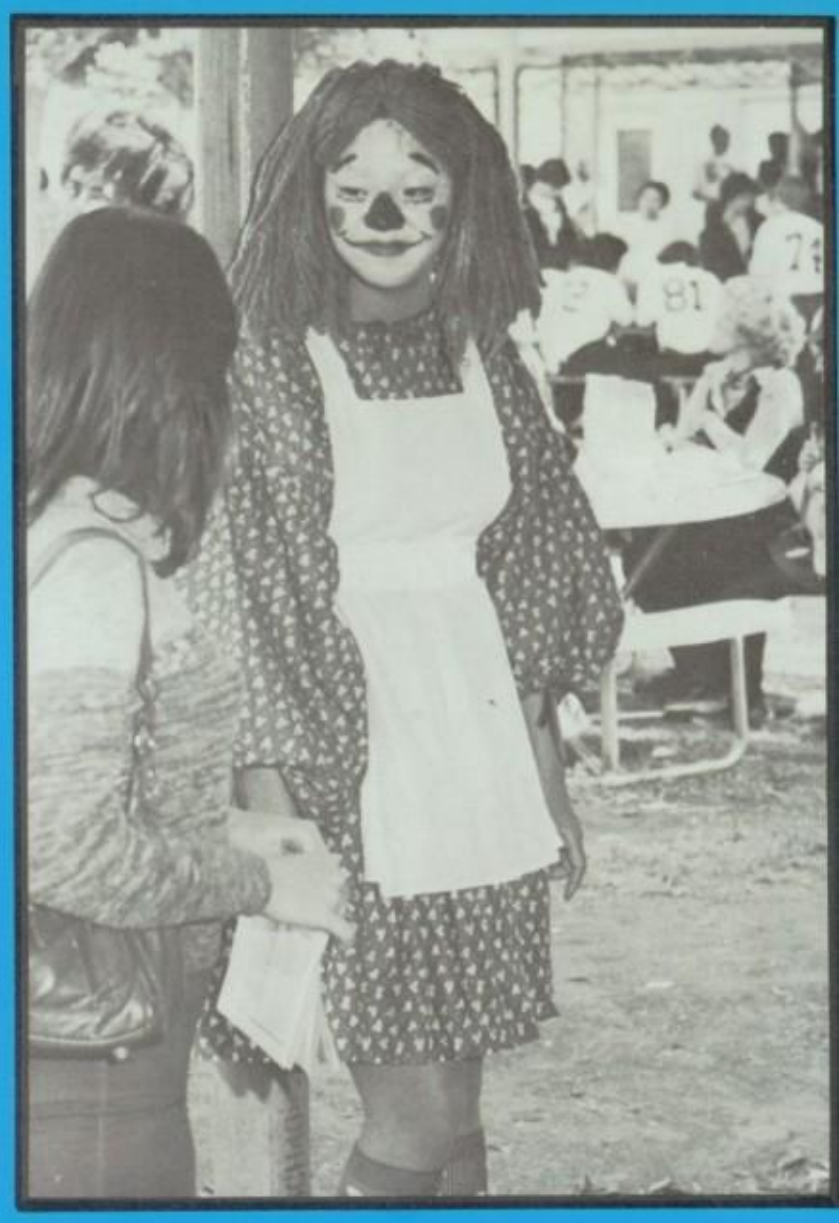


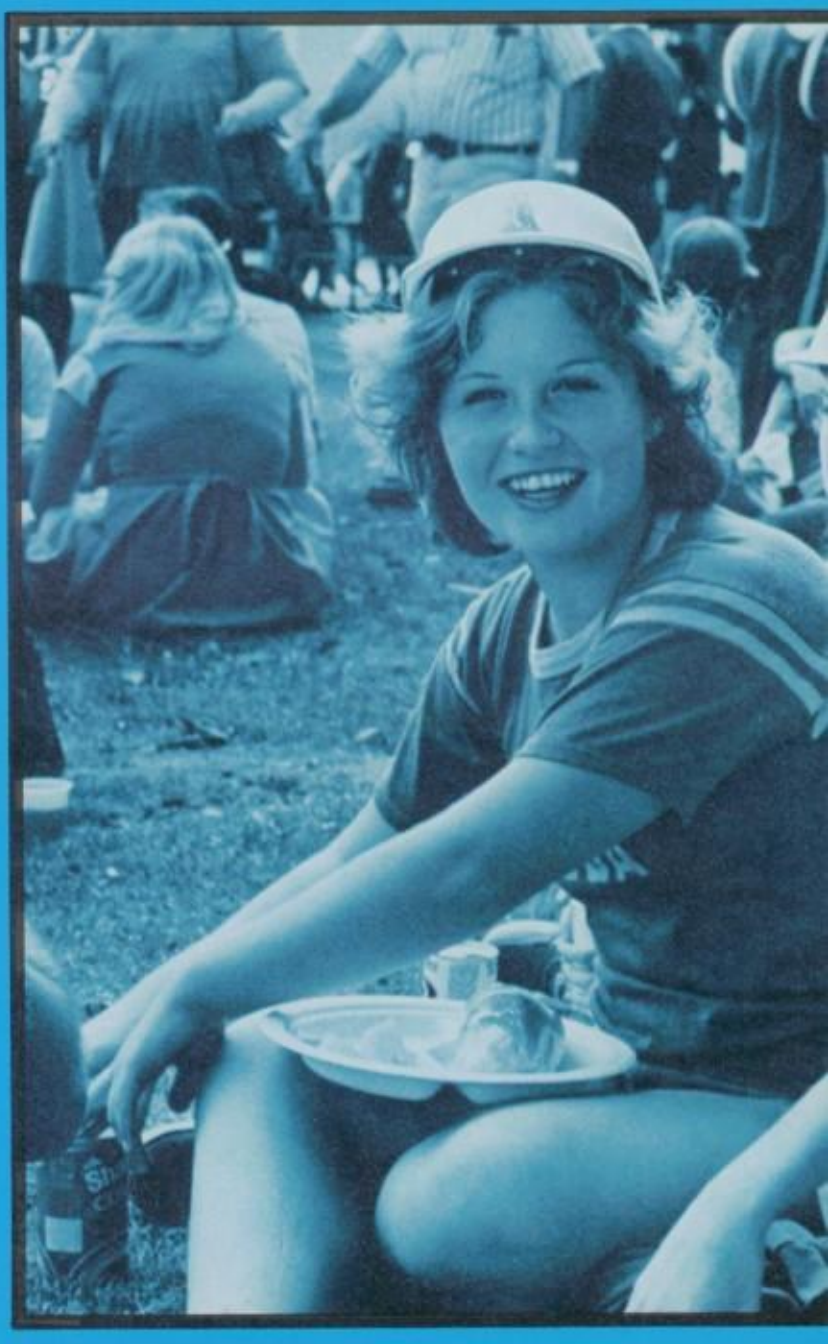
. . . And A Sad Departure For Others

On Thursday, June 15, 1978, approximately 450 students gathered together at Heaman Field for the last time. The occasion of this gathering was the graduation of the Class of 1978. Many seniors had been looking forward to these ceremonies with great anticipation, while others greeted it with tears of sadness. For all concerned, the occasion carried great importance. Over the last few years, Montebello High School watched the Class of 1978 develop from silly thirteen and fourteen year-olds into mature young adults. Along the way they made new friends and maintained old associations, experienced good times and bad, and most of all grew, both mentally and physically. As members of the graduating class looked forward to new lives and the promise of tomorrow, they also realized the importance of yesterday's memories, memories that are fragile — to be handled with care.



ACTIVITIES





P.S. Hope you have a Butcher Summer & Stay Cool. Stay out of trouble. Hope to see you next year and have fun with that special guy in your life.

Friendship always.

The band, "Tabu," provided the entertainment for the "Mostly-Ghostly" Halloween Dance. The dance, which was the first masquerade dance in M.H.S. history, was sponsored by the Junior Class. All students attending the dance were required to wear a costume, and prizes were given for the best ones. Although parking problems occured because Schurr was holding their Homecoming Game on Heaman Field that night, the dance had a good turnout.

Homecoming Brought Victory For Oilers

Preparations for Homecoming began early in the year with flower making parties as many clubs on campus entered floats in the annual contest. Other activities included delivery of Homecoming Mums, returning alumni, "M" Club's dunking booth, and a pep rally. The highlight of the day was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Carol Sogoian, and her court at the football game. To add to the festive mood, the football team beat the Whittier Cardinals by a score of 42-21.

Pep Commission And Poster Club Sparked Spirit

The Pep Commission was composed of one member of the "M" Club, five Head Pepsters, four Head Rigettes, one member of the Sound Crew, one member of the Pep Band, and the Secretary of Athletics. This group met each Wednesday at lunch to plan pep rallies. They also judged in Pepster and Drill Team Screenings.

The Poster Club was made up of pepsters who met after school to paint posters for various occasions. Their works of art were displayed at pep rallies, football games, basketball games and other athletic events. Many people felt these posters helped to brighten up the school and promote spirit.

GOVERNMENT

Leadership Lead To A Succesful Year

As the year ends, it brings tears and sadness to many. For the seniors it brings on a great challenge of reaching their goals in life. For those returning it brings a continuous schedule until their graduation. High school cannot be put into words for many. It will remain only memories. Proms, games, and dances sparkled our years while the test and tardies lengthened our years. Being President brought me many honors, but no honor is greater than meeting more friends. When a person can look back on his life and honestly say that high school was the most joyful, meaningful years of his life, that really shows what kind of people he went to school with. A class reunion will be held on September 12, in the year 2000. Reservations can be made by calling the High School thirty days before the above date. In closing, I would like to wish you the best in life.

Each year the Golden Key Annual Staff strives to improve the annual. This year, members spent many hours tallying the results of a student survey which was used to guide production of a yearbook that more accurately reflected student interests and preferences.

This year's theme, "Fragile: Handle With Care," was selected by staff members at the beginning of the year. In past years the theme was kept a secret, but this year it was announced shortly after it was choosen to stimulate student interest in the book.

Although staff members confessed that it took a lot of work to put the annual together, they agreed that the fun and satisfaction made it a worthwhile project.

Profile of A "Superstar"

It takes an exceptional athlete to earn a position on the Varsity Football team as a sophomore. One such player was Vince Vaca. As a senior, Vince ran 150 yards with two touchdowns against Monte Vista in the team's best game of the year. According to Vince, his best game was in his sophomore year when he ran over 209 yards and scored two touchdowns against Santa Fe. Among his honors were being named as Varsity Football Most Valuable Player in 1976 and 1977, and 1976 West Valley Player of the Year. After high school Vince planned on playing football in college. With such an outstanding record, he should be as successful in college athletics as he has been in high school.

During Easter Vacation, ninety members of the Mighty Oiler Band, along with ninety members of the Cerritos High School Band, went on a concert tour. They departed from M.H.S. by bus on March 18th, and traveled up the Pacific Coast making appearances in San Francisco and Redding. Continuing on, they also made stops in Portland and Seattle. They made their final appearance in Vancouver, British Colombia, from where they departed by plane for home on March 24th.

The trip, which had been planned for nearly a year by Mr. Covellone and the Cerritos High School band director, cost each band member approximately $300. However, due to fund raising efforts such as coloring book and fruitcake sales, each band member actually had to pay only about $150.

Thus the band was able to spread more musical good will on behalf of M.H.S. while enjoying Easter Vacation "on the road."

As the cost of living rose again this year, most clubs on campus felt the impact of inflation. When the need to purchase uniforms, finance activities, and pay other bills arose, most groups turned to fund raising to ease the financial burden.

In order to hold a fund raising event, a representative from the club desiring finances had to file an application with the A.S.B. Student Council. The next step was to have the Student Council at its weekly business meeting either approve or disapprove the fund raising activity. If the activity was approved, the club was allowed to proceed as planned.

The entire fund raising process proved to be profitable for most clubs on campus. Through their efforts they were able to raise the money necessary to carry out club functions and contribute to a variety of interesting campus activities.

"This tastes like a speed line special."

From the moment "Jaws" opened, it was clear that it would set box office records. Soon, it became the all-time box office champion. But this year there was a new contender for the title, "Star Wars." The reasons behind the success of "Star Wars" were as fascinating as its plot.

The most obvious reason for the "Star Wars" success was that it appealed to the child in all of us. Adults who were too inhibited to sit and watch a cartoon found "Star Wars" more acceptable. Although "Star Wars" was not animated, it still had a fairytale-air about it that allowed the viewer to escape from his own hectic world and relax while watching one of the best-made films of the year.

The fact that "Star Wars" was well-made was another major reason that it set box office records. The special effects used were a superior example of modern-day artistic genius. They set the mystical mood while never being over-played or poorly-done. The special effects, coupled with the superior sets, created the perfect setting for "Star Wars."

Even with good special effects and sets, the movie would have been nothing without the credibility of its actors. Darth Vader seemed to reek with evil, his stare causing shudders in the audience. Ben Kenobi, on the other hand, was the essence of good, his courage seemingly endless. The two were so obviously "good" and "evil" that the audience immediately sided with Ben Kenobi, booed Darth Vader, and forgot that it was "just a movie."

All three elements combined — fantasy, good special effects, and superior acting — made "Star Wars" more than "just a movie." It not only set records, but a new standard for the film industry.

Various efforts are made throughout each school year to raise spirit. One of the most successful of these efforts has been pep rallies. During the fall and winter sport seasons, pep rallies usually took place on Fridays at nutrition. However, many students tended to take for granted all the planning and preparation that went on behind the scenes to make each pep rally run smoothly.

The Pep Commission, headed by Secretary of Athletics, David Torres, was responsible for planning all pep rallies. This group was composed of members of the sound crew, pep band, "M" Club, drill team, and pepsters. They all met every Wednesday at lunch to decide if a pep rally would be held on that Friday. If the Pep Commission decided to have one, then they next would decide the order in which the Rigettes and pepsters would perform.

After all the plans were made, the Rigettes and pepsters had to practice for the pep rally. The pepsters usually practiced on Wednesdays after school, while the Rigettes practiced periodically throughout the week after school. In addition to all this, both groups usually practiced on Friday mornings before school.

After all the work that went into making each pep rally run smoothly, the average Oiler still did not fully appreciate the planning and preparation by members of the Pep Commission, pepsters, and Rigettes. But everyone who attended enjoyed the pep rallies anyway.

M.H.S. students have traditionally looked forward to finals because they signified the end of a semester or the end of a school year. This year the semesters ended differently than they had in the last several years. Previously, the final exam schedule had been relatively the same, with two days of exams and four minimum days. However, in the 1977-78 school year this was not the case.

During finals weeks this year, there were only three minimum days. At the end of the first semester, final exams in periods two, four, and six were given on the first day. Periods one, three, and five were held on the following day. The third day was used for teachers to go over the test results and semester grades with their students. The schedule was relatively the same during the second semester.

Although this new schedule meant students had one less minimum day, M.H.S. Principal, Mr. Richard Benton, felt that, for the good of the students, they should have all the time in the classroom they could get.

Last summer, two weeks before school started, the Mighty Oiler Band and Rigette Drill Team began pre-season practice. They could be seen each morning marching back and forth between M.H.S. and Vail Avenue, sweltering in ninety-degree heat. Many people asked "why?" and most band and drill team members answered that pre-season practice was essential to their success at Band Reviews.

During Band Review season, which ran from mid-September until mid-December, the Mighty Oiler Band and Rigette Drill Team competed in approximately half a dozen parades and Band reviews. On the morning of each event, Band and Drill Team members were usually required to be at school no later than 8 a.m. At that time, the Rigettes would put in a little extra practice, while Mr. Covellone gave the Band a last minute pep talk. At about nine o'clock, everything was packed on the buses and ready to go. On the way to the Band Review, some people slept while others tried to calm their nerves by cheering and singing.

When everyone arrived at the site of the Band Review, they all got dressed and prepared to march. After warming up a while, both groups assembled and began following the parade route. After passing through warm-up and silent areas, competition began and everyone put forth his or her best effort, showing that all the months of practice could pay off.

At the end of the parade route, the band and drill team were dismissed and went back to their buses to change into their street clothes. As the nervousness and tension of competition dissipated, feelings of anticipation began to develop. Before the Award Ceremonies began, everyone goofed off and acted crazy. When the ceremonies finally started everyone grew tense.

After the ceremonies were over, and the band, drill team, and drum major had "raked in" numerous awards, it was obvious that all their efforts had indeed paid off! M.H.S. had another successful Band Review and Parade season.

While most M.H.S. students were enjoying their summer vacation last year, many changes took place at Montebello High School. The most important of these changes was made in August when the Board of Education confirmed Mr. Richard K. Benton as Principal. Mr. Benton had been previously promoted to the position of acting Principal when Mr. Howard Rupard took an unexpected leave of absence for illness last spring.

Without actually knowing that he would someday become a high school principal, Mr. Benton began his preparation for the job early in life. As a graduate of New Mexico Highlands University, Mr. Benton began his teaching career in 1951. He taught social studies and math in Clayton, New Mexico, where he was also a coach for all sports. Eight years later, he moved to California where he taught social studies and math at Bell Gardens High School.

In 1961, Mr. Benton came to Montebello High School to teach social studies. Over the past fourteen years, he has also held several other administrative positions, including Director of Student Activities, Boys' Vice Principal, and Assistant Principal for Instruction.

In order to get away from the many pressures of his job, Mr. Benton spent much of his leisure time traveling. Although he has traveled all over the United States, his favorite places are North Carolina, Tennessee, and Hawaii.

When asked about the pressures of his new position, Mr. Benton commented, "As Principal, I have a lot more responsibility, but I don't mind, because I enjoy working with the kids." The fact that he enjoyed his job was evident in June when he completed his first year as enthusiastically as he began it.

It is not every day that an M.H.S. teacher has the chance to win a million dollars, but Mrs. Chloe Therou, French and Spanish teacher will have such an opportunity this summer. She, along with her husband and father, will drive their antique 1909 Buick in a recreation of the 1908 "Great Race."

The route of the trip, which is from New York to Paris, will take them through Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Des Moines, Denver, Salt Lake City, Reno, and San Francisco. From San Francisco the autos will be shipped via air freight to Honolulu, Tokyo, and then Siberia. After crossing the Siberian Wasteland, they will proceed to Paris via Moscow, Warsaw and Berlin.

Mrs. Therou explained that the race, which will follow the exact route of the original 1908 race, will be a point-to-point timed rally full of travel and excitement. As she put it! "I am really looking forward to this race. It's the adventure of a lifetime." The Golden Key Yearbook Staff wishes her good luck in her travels.

Six new teachers were added to the Montebello High School staff this year. They were Miss Janice Koury, Mr. Tim Murphy, Mr. Robert Odou, Mr. Doug Rihn, Mrs. Chloe Therou, and Mr. Steve Yuchno.

Miss Koury came previously from U.C.L.A., where she majored in fine arts and design. She enjoyed skiing, bicycling, and gourmet cooking. Miss Koury instructed Oilers in art.

Mr. Murphy attended Arizona State, Los Angeles Harbor College, and has been working on his Master's Degree at Cal-State Long Beach. He was All-American in swimming and water polo. He enjoyed skiing, hiking, outdoor activities, and all types of music. He coached the swim and water polo teams.

Mr. Odou graduated from M.H.S. in 1970. He then attended Rio Hondo College before goin on to Whittier College where he received his B.A. He did his credential work for teaching at Cal-State Los Angeles. Some of his interests were snow skiing, body surfing, photography, sailing, and tennis. Mr. Odou taught social studies and intructed students in tennis.

Mr. Rihn went to California Lutheran College and received his Bachelor's Degree in science. He then received his teaching credential from Cal-State Los Angeles. He was interested in all sports, hunting, camping, water and snow skiing. Mr. Rihn taught physical education and science.

Mrs. Therou attended the University of Madrid for a summer and then transferred to Cal-State Los Angeles. She lived in Spain, Italy, Germany, and France. She was very interested in Antique autos and costumes from the turn of the century. She enjoyed photography, traveling, and show cats. Mrs. Therou taught French and Spanish.

The diverse backgrounds and wide interests of these new teachers made them more interesting in the classroom — a valuable addition to the M.H.S. faculty.

Having a hobby or outside interest is an important part of each person's personality. However, not all hobbies entail being shot at for no apparent reason. Mrs. Majorie Waggoner's hobby, collecting artifacts from Mexico, has led her into such unusual experiences. She and her husband began their hobby seven years ago with a trip to Mexico, and while enroute to Guadalajara, their tour bus was shot at for some unknown reason.

Undaunted by their experience, Mrs. Waggoner and her husband continued their traveling. Since then, they have toured such places as Oaxaco, Acapulco, and Taxco, as well as the Aztec Ruins of Yucatan, Chichen Itzá, and Palenque. Mrs. Waggoner also visited the pyramids of Teotihuacan, and reported that she considered them fascinating.

During her travels, Mrs. Waggoner has collected various Mexican artifacts, including silver from Taxco, stitchery, cloisonné, onyx and obsidian carvings, and other art pieces. Courses she has taken in archaeology at U.C.L.A. have proven helpful in collecting the artifacts.

For Mrs. Waggoner, the harrowing experience of being shot at has not lessened her interest in her hobby. She plans to continue traveling and collecting art pieces in the future to add to her present collection. Hopefully, future trips will prove to be safer, as well as interesting.

SENIOR YEAR

The memories that we shared
Will always be remembered,
For we are friends
And will always be.
And our love for each other
Will never cease.
We'll stay together
Through thick and thin.
We'll share our love
And never sin.
And then there comes Graduation Day,
And we'll both go our separete way.

THE END

THANK YOU!

Bee,

June, 1978

Sometimes it can be very difficult to tell someone just how much you appreciate all their help. We should have thanked you for helping us meet each deadline, for reading and correcting all our copy, for finding all our mistakes, for solving all our problems, but we let the chance slip by. In all the confusion of each deadline, it was hard to find the right words, the right time to tell you how much you meant to us.

Still, we didn't want you to think we hadn't noticed all the work you did to make this annual possible. Faced with the problem of just how to thank you, we decided there was only one way for a yearbook staff to really show their appreciation to someone — to dedicate their yearbook to that person. That's why we've dedicated this yearbook to you, with all our love.

Your Staff,

Leticia Ann Laurie Lydia Andy R. Sheri Fujii Leenie Clda Jennie Cathy Lily* Liz Janis Diane Grace Leenie Julie Martha Brenda Mike Charlene Nora Laura (aide Kiel#1) Rose Valerie Fleibiger
